Attn: The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am writing to comment regarding an article which appeared in your publication titled Miami or Bust on page 70 of the July 1-7, 1995 edition of your magazine, The Economist. I enclose a copy of the article for your review.

The client I represent is Mr. Gustavo Gomez Lopez who as you can see was mentioned in the article and was the President and Chairman of Banco Latino during the relevant time period in 1994. Although the article attempted to present both sides of the story, we thought you might be interested to find out how the law suit and allegations made by the government finally ended. I enclose for you a copy of the Judge's order entering Summary Judgment in favor of all defendants including Mr. Gomez Lopez and a copy of the Report of the Magistrate recommending sanctions against the attorneys who brought the action. In essence, the Court has found that the case had no merit and the allegations could never be supported. Naturally, we have substantial documents and transcripts to support the judge's ruling that the case was nothing more than a political vendetta and had no basis other than to achieve political objectives for the incoming presidency.

If you would like additional information or documentation, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Luis E. Delgado
